IN the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts you are directed to notify and warn the inhabitants of the Town of Easton, qualified to vote in elections and town affairs to meet in the Town Hall, in said Easton, on Monday, the fourth day of March next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, then and there to act on the following articles: —

ART. 1. To choose a Moderator to preside at said meeting.

ART. 2. To see if the town will accept of the reports of the Selectmen, Assessors, Overseers of the Poor, Treasurer, Road Commissioners, School Committee and Superintendent of Schools.

ART. 3. To choose all necessary town officers for the ensuing year.

ART. 4. To vote "Yes" or "No" by separate ballots upon the question, "Shall licenses be granted for the sale of intoxicating liquors in this town the ensuing year?"

ART. 5. To raise such sums of money as may be necessary to defray the town charges for the ensuing year and make appropriations for same.

Art. 6. To see if the town will raise and appropriate money to pay for conveying such scholars residing outside of District No. 7 as may wish to attend the High School at North Easton.

Art. 7. To see if the town will authorize the Treasurer to borrow money in anticipation of taxes.

Art. 8. To see if the town will accept the list of jurors presented by the Selectmen.

Art. 9. To see if the town will vote to raise and appropriate the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars for Memorial Day, to be expended under the direction of Post 52, G. A. R.

The polls will open at ten o'clock A. M. and may be closed at two o'clock P. M.

CARE AND MAINTENANCE OF SHADE TREES.

REPORT OF THE TREE WARDEN.

Removed one hundred and fifty large trees from the Town Farm and planted them in different places in town.

Spiked five hundred shade trees, which had not been planted by the town, for the purpose of preventing same from being cut down by the abutters.

Removed several large trees, which were wholly or partially decayed, that I considered dangerous to public travel.

Pruned all the trees in town, which were in a very much neglected condition.

Total expenses of all, including tools and other requisites amounts to $676.50.

I did not make a complete job of pruning owing to the lack of an appropriation and also time. There are at present quite a number of trees dead, which if replanted by new trees would add to the appearance of the streets, and if done now would keep the trees growing more even than if left a few years later.

I would recommend that the sum of $600 be raised and appropriated for the coming season for the care, maintenance and planting of shade trees in the town.

JOHN McFARLAND,
Tree Warden.

The Road Commissioners, Selectmen and some other friends of good roads, after long and continuous intercessions with the Mass. Highway Commissioners, secured an appropriation for the building of Belmont street from Brockton line to Washington street as a state highway. We secured the contract for doing the work under the direction of the Commission and nearly completed the work before the ground froze. Some finishing will have to be done in the Spring. The work was all done by the yard and ton and this road is forever a state road. All the town will have to do will be to keep it sufficiently clear of snow and ice, so that the same shall be reasonably safe for travel.

Although the figures show quite a balance left over last year and also this year, still we hope you will give us the same appropriations that we have had for the last three years. Had we not secured the contract for building the state road, which gave us $3,683.46, we should have used our entire appropriation for this year.

We have now built more than 3,000 feet of macadamized road for the town, and 4,200 feet for the state, and it seems that with the tools and machinery we now have we should have sufficient money to run them a good part of the season. The contract with the state only called for four inches of gravel and four inches of crushed stone, which is a much cheaper road to build than we have built, and with this experience we hope to build macadamized roads much faster and cheaper than we have done. Many of our roads, built of cobble stone in past years, can be dressed over with crushed stone and made good macadamized roads at a comparatively small expense. But don't forget that the first cost of macadamized roads will always be much greater than gravel, for the average cost of crushing stone is about forty cts. per ton, including the repairs to the machinery.

We have sold manure from the stable to the amount of $28.50, credit for which will appear in next Report.

The guide boards in town are in good condition.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN J. McCARTHY,
THOMAS F. LADD,
JOHN O. DEAN,
Commissioners.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

To the citizens of Easton:

We submit the following report for the year 1900 and call special attention to the detailed report of the Superintendent of Schools.

STATISTICS.

Number of scholars of all ages enrolled in the School Registers,	1,075
Number enrolled between the ages of seven and fourteen,	641
Number enrolled over fifteen years of age,	86
Number enrolled under five years of age,	70
Number of children in town, September 1, 1900, between the ages of five and fifteen,	919

APPROPRIATIONS.

We request that the following sums be appropriated for the support of the schools in 1901.

For salaries, fuel and care of buildings,	$17,000
Repairs,	1,000
Text books, furniture and conveyance of scholars,	2,000
Supplies and sundries,	1,000

The proposed application of the appropriation for repairs is set forth at length in the Superintendent's Report, thus making further statement of it here unnecessary.

During the year Mr. F. G. Keith, the janitor in the old High School Building, and instructor in the Sloyd Department, died.

He deserves more than a passing mention here. His integrity of character is known to all, but only we who were brought in contact with him fully know his devotion to the duties of his position.

Mr. George Sylvester has been chosen as his successor.

Perhaps at no other time has Easton had as good cause to be proud of her schools as to-day. Within recent years the increase in the town's population has been slight, and but little advance made in the total number of scholars enrolled,—sometimes even a decrease, as may be seen by a comparison of the total number of scholars enrolled in September, 1900, with the total number enrolled in September, 1899.

Yet the total number of scholars enrolled in the High School in September, 1900, was 117, the largest number by a considerable majority ever there enrolled.

The State law making attendance during certain years compulsory applies to but few of the pupils in the High School, as they are, with few exceptions, beyond the age limits named in the Act.

Their attendance must then be fairly construed as voluntary.

This voluntary attendance and the fact that the High School is the place wherein only the higher studies are taught, are perhaps the best evidence of a greater interest in educational matters on the part of parents and citizens, and on the part of pupils of a greater desire to avail themselves of the opportunities afforded them.

It is certainly pleasing to bear the above fact in mind, particularly at this time when Massachusetts is being forced out of the field of agriculture and is being sorely pressed even in the fields of commerce by states more favorably endowed.

We may still claim for her that which has ever been her greatest honor, supremacy in education.

The words of her own son, Whittier,

> "And what the sternness of her soil denies,
> The harvest of the mind supplies" are in full force, and in this Easton is doing her share.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT T. CONROY, Chairman,
HEMAN HOWARD, Secretary,
LINCOLN S. DRAKE.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

The following is the statement of all receipts for the year and of all bills ordered paid by the superintending School Committee. One comment is necessary. The real balance would appear much smaller had the coal bills of J. O. Dean & Co. for 1899 and 1900 been presented in time to have been paid in 1900.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the School Committee of Easton:—

The Superintendent of Schools respectfully submits, for the year 1900, his first annual report, being the fifteenth in the series of reports by superintendents of this town.

Such a community as Easton, expects and rightly demands, an intelligent and business like administration of its school affairs.

Undoubtedly the one fact of which New England may most justly be proud, is the ungrudging manner in which her citizens have ever contributed to the support of schools, and in this respect Easton has always sustained an honorable record; that she will continue to do so, as long as the largest and most satisfactory results follow this school outlay, is manifestly assured.

Your new superintendent earnestly desires to make his office thoroughly business like, to the end that the most commodious and best adapted school buildings may be maintained and the greatest attainment reached, in the development of all our children, so as to fit them for the most efficient citizenship; to attain this ideal the intelligent interest and hearty co-operation of every citizen is sincerely invoked.

To reach the condition, where the public is completely satisfied with what it has, means a relaxation of effort resulting in a slow and lingering decline.

It is urged that frequent visits to our schools and friendly suggestions on the part of those interested would result in a better understanding and more satisfactory conditions.

If some plan could be devised to call our people together in friendly discussion, by means of which a clearer conception of what is sought to be done, might be gained, the result could not fail to be salutary.

Your superintendent asks the freest interchange of thought with all the citizens.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

Nearly all school buildings throughout the town are in a fine condition. The one exception is the old building at North Easton, which needs repairs both inside and outside. The exterior calls for repairs on the tower and on some of the gutters. It also needs repainting. The interior woodwork is bare in many places. These need shellac and the entire finish ought to be varnished. The health of our children emphatically calls for the cleaning of all the walls and ceilings and retinting of the same where necessary. New floors are desirable, but the old ones can be used a year or two longer.

The Oliver Ames High School would be vastly improved if its walls and ceilings could be tinted.

The heating apparatus at South Easton ought to be changed. As now arranged too much fuel is consumed for the results obtained.

TEACHERS.

During the year no change has occurred in the corps of regular teachers.

Of the special teachers Mr. E. S. Colton Jr., who had filled very acceptably, for a number of years, the position of Commercial teacher resigned at the close of the term ending in June. His resignation was reluctantly accepted. The scope of this position was extended at that time to cover the entire town and Mr. M. J. West of Farmington, Maine, State Normal School, was called, during the summer vacation, to these enlarged duties. Sufficient time has not yet elapsed to see the full fruition of his labors, yet I am sure very satisfactory results are already manifest.

For a better understanding of this work you are referred to his special report in appendix. Miss Helen Veasey, who for some time had had charge of the sloyd room resigned last September. To mention that her position is fully filled by Miss Aimee Lundgren is to express the highest commendation of both.

Intelligent educators everywhere agree, that improvement in our own schools must be sought in elevating the personnel of the teaching force by every means possible, and in developing lofty ideals as a constant incentive to enlarged and intelligent effort.

For those who are looking for better things the constant aim must be, to seek and retain the most excellent, and never be satisfied with less than the best results; this has a moral side. We are bound to give our children the best at our command, and to show any disposition to tolerate inferior service on the part of any is, at least, to be wickedly derelict in our duties.

One great source of waste in our schools is the fact that several of our rooms are so crowded that two teachers are found necessary to do the work.

I would urge emphatically the desirability of making changes, as rapidly as possible, to obviate this condition.

COURSES OF STUDY.

I most earnestly recommend an early revision of our courses of study.

It seems to me that there should be a thirteen years course ending with graduation from the High School. The completion of this entire course should earn the one so completing, a suitable diploma. For anything less, certificate of actual attainment should be given.

It will be seen by comparing with others, that our course of study, especially in the High School, is very incomplete.

First, I would suggest for our High School an English course, embracing in it, during the four years, everything provided in the curriculum of our best business colleges, and such other English branches as would lead to the broadest mind development; secondly, a Latin Scientific course, running along the lines of the English, substituting Latin for the commercial studies, and lastly, a classical course, in which Greek, or modern languages are taught, so that it would be possible for a pupil so desiring to fit for college.

Courses arranged as suggested, would remove all uncertainty as to requirements, and make it possible for those interested to select wisely for their children.

I am of the opinion that our courses in general contain more than can be pursued profitably, and that more concentrated effort applied to the purely essential studies, using others as they correlate and thus aid to a better understanding, would eventually develop minds better fitted to work out the hard problems of everyday life.

In general the school work is moving along smoothly, and the teachers, as a whole, are industrious, painstaking, and intelligent in the discharge of their duties. For the great work of keeping our schools fully abreast of the times the best endeavors of your superintendent, teachers and all connected with the schools must be absolutely demanded.

It gives me pleasure to note the continued kindly interest of Mrs. Anna C. Ames, shown during the year in providing instruments, music and instruction for our large and enthusiastic school band; in the basket ball outfit with instruction in the use of the same, and in the gift to the Oliver Ames High School of two rare and costly volumes by S. F. Denton on "Moths and Butterflies of the United States East of the Rocky Mountains."

We are certainly very grateful to Mr. Oakes Ames for the beautiful pictures of "Pulpit Terrace," "Grant Canyon," and "Old Faithful," which now adorn our High School walls.

THE KINDERGARTEN.

The teachers in this department report no material change since last year.

Too many people look upon this work as innocent and harmless amusement.

It is amusement, but scientific amusement made to mold and shape character.

The more one knows of kindergarten methods the more he is convinced of the great utility of this gentle but still potent force, within its proper sphere, upon the lives of those who come under its far-reaching influence.

SEWING SCHOOL.

The teachers in this department are still doing their work in a most satisfactory manner.

Probably no branch of our industrial work has been more potent in its influence for good.

Beside the vast utility of the work in itself, the strengthening of habits of neatness, exactness, obedience and promptness cannot fail to exert a wide influence upon the home life of all concerned.

For statistics in regard to this work look in Appendix.

ART.

For information in this department you are referred to the report of Miss Ratsey found in the Appendix.

Comment is unnecessary as the intent of the work is fully set forth in the special report.

We must add our appreciation of the faithful services and consequent good results attained in this department.

MANUAL TRAINING.

This work is under the efficient management of Miss Aimee Lundgren.

For details of this department you are referred to her special report.

Undoubtedly the emphatic need for this work in cities, does not exist in smaller towns, still it is very beneficial in correlation with mechanical drawing and as an aid to more intelligent mind expansion.

It is said that facility in the use of the fingers indexes the general intelligence of a people. It is certainly true that among the lower orders this use is limited to the coarsest work.

Manual training helps to solve the great problem of mind control over the physical. In this view we see its vast utility.

COOKING SCHOOL.

Under the same teacher as in the preceding year this department is following much the same lines as in the past.

Probably no study is more necessary to the well being and happiness of a people than a thorough cultivation of home science.

This work is intended to aid and supplement the lessons learned usually in the kitchen and incidentally to help in the formation of character. See Appendix.

MUSIC.

The long service of Mr. Shepardson is sufficient guarantee of his faithful and efficient work.

In his report you will find a very hopeful tone.

I am satisfied that the teachers are conscientiously attending to a reasonable amount of practice and thus seconding his efforts. In this way alone can we hope for substantial advancement. This branch of instruction is certainly very important and has a wide influence in refining and toning character. A school in which a good interest is manifested in singing is always an easily managed one.

I cannot close this report without expressing my heartfelt appreciation of the very cordial reception extended to me by all the teachers and other citizens of the town.

It is a pleasure to recall the helpful spirit manifested toward me by my predecessor in starting me in my work, when I was a stranger to its duties, and the earnest purpose shown by the School Committee to do their best for the schools.

I wish to thank the many friends for marked kindness, helpful suggestions, encouragement and forbearance in the short comings incident to a new position.

Respectfully submitted,

O. C. EVANS.

APPENDIX.

Report of the Supervisor of Penmanship and Teacher of the Commercial Department.

Mr. O. C. Evans, Superintendent of Schools:

Dear Sir:—As this is my first year in the schools of Easton, there is no definite way for me to make comparisons of the work; therefore this report must be of a general nature of the conditions as I have found them.

The interest taken in penmanship, together with the generally excellent writing by the pupils in the North Easton schools, show what has been accomplished by careful and intelligent instruction in the past. My aim has been to continue this without retrograde, and by the able assistance of the grade teachers, the results of the first term will, I think, uphold me in stating that there has been a profitable advance made by all of the pupils.

Vertical writing had been introduced into nearly all of the schools outside of North Easton Village, and not having had the oversight of the special supervisor of penmanship no definite plan had been followed. To make the work uniform throughout the town, the school committee promptly decided to adopt slant writing for all.

Knowing the difficulties to be encountered in a new field, which would be made materially harder by the effort to change from the vertical to the slant writing, I planned to give a lesson in each school once each week. The pupils as a whole have taken kindly to my methods, and the teachers, even though some strongly favor the vertical, have ably seconded my efforts so that thus far, I am happy to say the results are beyond my expectations.

Of course no very radical change could be expected in so short a time, but I believe that an examination of work, that has been preserved, will convince that earnest effort has been made. At the end of the year we feel sure that a profitable showing will be manifested and the wisdom of the Committee in adopting slant writing will be apparent.

An examination of the supplies on hand for work in the Commercial Department showed that the text-books had been in use for a long time and were, not only somewhat out of date, but also badly worn. Enough of these were exchanged to furnish the incoming class with the Sadler Rowe Commercial and Industrial Business Practice. This system works on the plan that business transactions form the basis of accounts, and that a pupil cannot understand accounts until he first understands the transactions from which they are derived. The pupil either gives or receives the papers that accompany every transaction. This furnishes data from which his books are written; beginning with the simplest form of double entry and gradually developing the more complex and scientific forms of accounts.

The system is working well and the class is gradually developing neatness and facility in making out and handling the business papers.

A "Business Course" can, at best, be but unsatisfactory if those taking it have not a good English basis upon which to build. May I suggest that "Business Course" as placed in the High School Courses of Instruction, is very indefinite? In justice to those that elect to take this course, it seems to me that it ought to be made definite enough to enable them to know what they may expect.

If the Business Course could have the studies definitely stated and logically arranged on the basis of the English Course, to extend through two or three years, I feel sure the results would be very much more satisfactory.

Among the things to be developed by book-keeping and the other studies of a commercial course are neatness, accuracy and rapidity. If taken only in the first year of High School work, at that age when the things designed to be developed are at the greatest discount in youthful minds, the ends sought to be promoted are necessarily hindered if not entirely defeated.

Respectfully submitted,

M. J. WEST.

MUSIC.

Mr. O. C. Evans, Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir: —It gives me pleasure to report progress in the study of music during the past year. Each school is now required to have daily drill, and already marked improvement is noticeable. Music cannot be taught with satisfactory results, unless there is constant practice, and daily drill is positively essential to insure success; in no other way can the tiny muscles of the child's throat be properly developed.

There are always many children who have little or no musical ability, but such children need not remain unmusical. The ear must be trained to distinguish between musical tones, and the voice must receive special care from the teacher. There have been instances in this town of children requiring several years to be able to sing the scale—in one instance the pupil was seven years learning to sing the major scale—and yet such pupils often make good singers and develop considerable musical ability. Too much care cannot be exercised to properly develop such voices.

There is another class of pupils, which requires the most painstaking attention. Those boys who are approaching the period when the use of the voice is attended with more or less difficulty should be encouraged to sing, but always with the greatest care, for permanent injury may result from the injudicious use of the voice at the period of transition from boyhood to manhood.

All schools except the Grammar and High are now using the Natural Course in Music, thus making the work more uniform than at any time since the above books were introduced. Respectfully submitted,

J. E. SHEPARDSON.

ART.

Mr. O. C. Evans, Supt. of Schools.

Dear Sir: —The course in Art Instruction continues about the same as last year, though we trust it is constantly improving, aiming always toward an appreciation of the highest in us, our sense of beauty; and a free and individual expression. The subjects undertaken include: —form study, which fixes the concepts of the types and objects; form expression, which develops power and at the same time forms habits of observation, accuracy and neatness; color instruction, which is based upon standards of color, cultivating wider opportunities for usefulness in the expression of thought and feeling; nature study, which adds to the children's knowledge and interest in the workings and wonders of Nature; picture study, which leads to a recognition, study, and appreciation of pictures and illustrations; it is hoped that during the coming year the art instruction may have some influence in the extension of the regular grade studies.

The conversational lessons in the primary grades upon form, offer opportunities for drill in correct language expression. Form study may greatly assist the number work. Stick-laying and paper-folding in the primary grades may assist the study of relations, dimensions, quantities and divisions. History and geography are aided by a conception of position, location and relation, which the form study strengthens.

The usual spring exhibit of work was held in the individual rooms. The favorable results obtained were largely due to the co-operation on the part of the various grade teachers. Respectfully submitted,

ETHEL W. RATSEY.

COOKING SCHOOL.

Mr. O. C. Evans, Supt. of Schools.

Dear Sir: —The Cooking School opened September 29, with forty-five pupils registered; one class, consisting of beginners, the other of advanced pupils.

The aim of the work is not so much to see how many dishes may be cooked, but to instill the principles of the different processes of cookery in working out simple recipes as types. With the principles well grounded the pupil is enabled to branch out from the simpler forms to the more complex.

Accuracy of measurement is insisted upon as much to cultivate habits of accuracy as for success in the result.

Cleanliness is made a special feature of the course and the proper methods of caring for a kitchen; each child takes her share of the work of clearing the kitchen in turn.

The work in the school kitchen tends to the building up of the character. Acts of unselfishness may be encouraged and fostered in many ways not possible in other branches of school work. There is a practical opportunity of exemplifying one of Emerson's beautiful sentiments—"'Tis nobleness to serve; help those who cannot help again."

Economy of time and of utensils as well as of materials is practiced, as the suggestions for such are drawn from the children by proper questioning.

With the co-operation of parents, (and it has been most cordial) the children have the advantage of home practice, which is a great help.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY C. MITCHELL.

SEWING SCHOOL.

The following statistics are given by the teachers in the Sewing School as the results of the year's work:

Two hundred and thirty girls were in attendance.

During the year there were made 226 towels, 26 roller towels, 51 napkins, 121 pillow slips, 25 pairs drawers, 30 flannel shirts, 11 cotton shirts, 46 large aprons, 57 small aprons, 2 flannel yoke night dresses, 3 cotton yoke night dresses, 2 flannel waists, 2 curtains, 1 bib, 23 handkerchiefs, 5 sleeve aprons, one yoke apron, 2 corset waists, 3 bolster cases, and hemstitch doyley.

SLOYD REPORT.

Mr. O. C. Evans, Supt. of Schools:

Dear Sir:—The Sloyd work, being again under a new instructor has during the fall term naturally been of a tentative nature.

It is the purpose of the present teacher to arrange an orderly set of models, which shall appeal to the interest of the boys and be of use in the home and at the same time afford the opportunity for gradual increase in effort and skill.

As the ability of education varies greatly among members of the same class, it is impossible for all to do the same amount of work. Yet, in order to ascertain just what has been accomplished by the whole class in the use of certain appliances; there are certain regular models so called. These must be made by every member of the class, with exception only for special cases. This arrangement is made in order to prevent the possibility of some boys beginning a number of models, without ever completing them, a habit which certainly is not commendable. The regular models must necessarily be comparatively few, for reasons above indicated. There are, however, a large number of extra models, supplementary to the "regulars," for those who complete their work early. These models, which as a rule involve repeated exercises, often consist of playthings. They are taken home as soon as completed, whereas the regular models are kept by the teacher until all are handed in, when a selection is made of three or four to be retained for exhibition at the end of the year, and the rest are returned to be carried home. The following schedule shows what has been accomplished during the Fall term: (the parentheses are extra models.)

GRADE E. Plant label, Hexagonal mat, Flower pot stand, (Key tag).

GRADE D. Small Key-rack. (Hat rack), Preserve Stirrer, (Fish line winder), Polishing board, (Pencil sharpener).

GRADE C. Hat rack, (Stationery box, trowser stretcher,) Pen holder, (small shelf, match holder).

GRADE B. Flower stool, Shelf, Sign-board, (Pen tray,) Knife box, (Brush broom holder,) Cake spoon, or Sugar scoop, option, (Key rack, Clothes fork).

GRADE A. (Individual work.) Glove box, Knife box, Glass tray, Table. Book shelves and Tool chest being still in work.

The little beginners in Grade E are taking hold of the work in an enthusiastic way which promises good for the future. Pity that they have only two lessons a month!

Grade D shares this fate, as the two grades alternate on the same week day. There are some very good workers in this grade; the ability is however very uneven, and the class has been overcrowded, which has made progress difficult.

In Grade C the boys work for the first time in three dimensions, and are beginning to read working drawings. For this reason drawings must occasionally be made by the class. A Sloyd room is however not the place for drawing lessons, as not only the time there should be spent in active work, but also the tools within reach make it difficult to keep thoughts and hands on the drawing, especially when backward comrades make waiting necessary. In connecting the drawing in the class room with the work in the Sloyd room, the interest would surely be greatly strengthened. In the three lower grades the work is done according to directions, which are given to the class as a whole, and the pupils are enjoined strictly to follow orders. When through careful application of precepts the wisest procedure has been learned, we are ready to work more independently.

The members of Grade B should be just at this point, and independence of thought is here urged, even at the risk of a failure. Still the class work goes on as before with occasionally greater freedom in the choice of models.

Grade A are independent workers. The boys are allowed to select their own work within a certain limit of difficulty. The small number of members in this class allows the teacher to discuss the work personally with each one. This is the ideal condition for a Sloyd class, and should exist through all the grades, but for the great numbers, which make class work necessary.

The boys in Grade A have proved earnest and interested workers, and most of them are able to cope with the most difficult task that falls within the general limit of Grammar Grade work.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF EASTON, MASS.

I. In Relation to the Teachers.

Section 1. Teachers shall in all cases be elected by the Committee.

Sec. 2. Whenever a teacher, in any school, is temporarily absent, the Superintendent may appoint a substitute.
